Hin Ton Wong | Associate

Ms. Wong is a distinguished first-generation Chinese-American lawyer and achieves unmatched results in complex state and federal civil litigation. A proud product of NYC public schools, including Stuyvesant High School, Ms. Wong worked at her family's Chinese restaurant in lower Manhattan all throughout from high school, college, and on weekends during law school.

Renowned for her tenacity and meticulous attention to detail, Ms. Wong excels in providing exceptional client service. She sharpened her legal skills as a clinical student at Penn State Law's Center for Immigrants' Rights Clinic (CIRC), where she actively represented institutional clients in community outreach and education, and fiercely defended individuals facing removal, including asylees in family detention.
